Company Update | Adaro Andalan Indonesia (AADI IJ/BUY/Rp10,625/Target: Rp13,500)

Page 2 →

- AADI's 9M26 net profit rose 16.3% yoy to US$683m, and 3Q26 profit fell 36.6% qoq to US$210m, reflecting lower sales volume, a higher stripping ratio, and a one-off tax on the Kestrel disposal. Stronger coal prices could support 4Q26 earnings and Kestrel proceeds imply a potential Rp1,529/share special dividend (15.0% yield) at full payout. Maintain BUY with a target price of Rp13,500.

Adaro Andalan Indonesia (AADI IJ)

Two Tailwinds: Coal Prices And Special Dividend

Highlights

- Kestrel proceeds create potential for a substantial special dividend. AADI's US$661.3m attributable after-tax proceeds could translate into Rp1,529/share (15.0% yield) assuming a 100% payout, although actual distribution remains subject to capital allocation priorities.
- 4Q26 earnings are likely to remain solid, supported by higher coal prices. We expect higher coal prices (October ICI4: US$78.35/tonne vs US$67.80/tonne in 3Q26) to offset lower volumes, supporting 2026 net profit of nearly US$1.0b (+32.3% yoy).
- Maintain BUY with a higher target price of Rp13,500, down from Rp14,300, based on 6.3x 2027F PE, reflecting Alamtri Resources Indonesia's (ADRO) five-year average PE.

Analysis

- Kestrel proceeds create potential for a large special dividend. Adaro Andalan Indonesia (AADI) completed the sale of its 47.99% stake in Kestrel to Yancoal on 1 Oct 26 for US$814.12m before tax and US$734.83m after tax, subject to sales and purchase agreement adjustments. AADI cited the intended use of the proceeds for dividends, business development in Indonesia and partial loan repayment. AADI holds the stake through 90%-owned Adaro Capital, leaving US$661.3m attributable to AADI after tax. On our illustrative assumption of a 100% payout of this amount, the dividend would be Rp11.9t or Rp1,529/share, a potential 15.0% yield. Management has not announced a payout, and competing uses make 100% an upper-end scenario for the upfront proceeds. AADI also remains attractive from a core dividend perspective, with its 2025 payout ratio at 59.2%.
- 4Q26 earnings are likely to remain solid, supported by higher coal prices. Despite lower sales volume and a higher strip ratio, we believe stronger coal prices could support profitability. We estimate that 4Q26 ASP could increase by up to 15% qoq, assuming the Oct 26 ICI4 price of US$78.35/tonne is sustained, compared with US$67.80/tonne in 3Q26. This should help offset lower expected sales volume of 17.2mt (-3.7% qoq; -10.6% yoy). Consequently, we expect 2026 net profit to approach US$1.0b, representing a 32.3% yoy growth. Amid tighter domestic supply from El Niño-related disruptions, AADI is likely to maintain its 30% domestic market obligation (DMO) through 4Q26, with a similar allocation expected in 2027.

Source: UOB Kay Hian

- 3Q26 earnings fell qoq on lower ASP, higher stripping and a one-off tax charge. Revenue declined 6.0% qoq to US$1,412.6m, as coal sales volume eased 2.9% qoq to 17.9mt and ASP fell 6.9% qoq to US$72.70/tonne with the strip ratio rising to 4.39x (2Q26: 3.82x) and cash cost up 5.2% qoq to US$52.10/tonne. EBIT fell 11.9% qoq to US$400.9m, supported by the US$21.5m gain on the Kestrel disposal. Net profit declined 36.6% qoq to US$209.6m, as tax expense rose to US$160.1m (2Q26: US$85.6m), including US$79.3m of capital gains tax on the disposal. Excluding the net Kestrel loss of US$57.8m, core profit was about US$267.4m (-19.2% qoq; +68.6% yoy). In 9M26, higher coal prices lifted EBIT by 31.7% yoy to US$1,067.4m, as ASP of about US$72.50/tonne (+10.8% yoy) offset a 2.5% lower sales volume. 9M26 net profit was below our previous expectation, at 61% of our 2026 forecast and 67% of consensus, while core profit of about US$741m reached 66% and 73%, respectively.

Valuation/Recommendation

- Maintain BUY with a lower target price of Rp13,500 (from Rp14,300). Our target price of Rp13,500 is based on 6.3x 2027F PE, which is ADRO's 2019-24 average PE prior to the spin-off of AADI. We lower our target price and cut our earnings forecast for 2027.

Earnings Revision/Risk

- We trim our 2026 and 2027 earnings forecasts by 10.8% and 11.4% respectively as we lower our coal volume estimates by 4.7% for 2026 and 3.7% for 2027, and increase the DMO from 25% to 30% on higher domestic electricity power demand.
